

Moonpath

A new teacher or new term

A get-ready pack · 4 stories to read before the day.

A new face at the front of the class, and how to ask for what they need.

For parents and caregivers of nonverbal autistic children. moonpath.in/prepare moonpath.in · built for nonverbal autistic kids

Inside this bundle

4 printable stories. Each is one page, designed to read aloud with your child.

- 01 My New Teacher
- 02 Assembly Time at School
- 03 My Quiet Helper
- 04 I Can Ask For Help

My New Teacher

A social story for Kairav — Meeting a new teacher when the old one is gone

1

My old teacher said bye bye. Now I have a new teacher.

2

I feel a little worried about my new teacher. That is okay.

3

My new teacher's name is Ms. Priya. She is kind and helpful.

4

Ms. Priya knows I use my Avaz to talk. She helps me.

5

My new teacher is my helper. I feel okay now.

Assembly Time at School

A social story for Kairav — Learning about daily morning assembly routine at school

1

Every morning at school we have assembly. I stand in a line with my friends.

2

We sing the morning prayer song together. Bruno wears ear defenders to feel comfortable.

3

I stand still with my hands by my side. I can be quiet during assembly time.

4

After the song, we walk back to our class. Assembly time is finished.

5

Assembly is done and my school day starts. I feel good and ready to learn.

My Quiet Helper

A social story for Kairav — Using headphones when the classroom feels too loud

1

My classroom has many sounds. Talking and fans and chairs moving. Sometimes it feels loud.

2

The loud sounds make me feel full in my head. That is okay. I can ask for help.

3

I can show my teacher my headphones card. I can ask for my quiet helper.

4

I put on my headphones. The sounds get quiet and soft. Now I can learn.

5

My head feels better now. My teacher is happy I asked for help. I am learning well.

I Can Ask For Help

A social story for Kairav — Teaching how to request help from teacher when feeling stuck at school

1

I am at school working on my worksheet. Sometimes the work feels hard.

2

My hand feels stuck. I do not know what to write. I feel confused.

3

I can ask for help. I pick up my Avaz and tap 'help please'.

4

My teacher comes over. She shows me the first problem. I can try now.

5

I am working on my math. Asking for help was brave. My teacher is happy to help me.